Professional Expertise

Abby Corbett, CRE, is a trusted advisor to various private, public, equity and debt investment managers and several of the industry’s most prominent analytics firms.

Abby currently serves as Global Head of Investor Insights where she acts as the chief spokesperson and Research-lead for Cushman & Wakefield’s Global Investor & Capital Markets business on all topics related to investor research.

Prior to joining Cushman & Wakefield, Abby spent 15 years building and leading real estate investment strategy platforms at large CRE institutions, prominent analytics technology firms and institutional private equity firms.

In prior positions, she served as Managing Director, Senior Economist to CoStar's Market Analytics group. Prior to CoStar, Abby served as Director of Research for several institutional private equity investment managers, including Amstar and Ascentris, where she created and led investment strategy platforms from the ground up for both firms’ domestic and international portfolios.

In earlier roles, she served as Global Economist for CBRE and CBRE Econometric Advisors, where she was the primary economist supporting Raymond G. Torto, Ph.D, CRE. As a member of CBRE’s Global Research and Consulting Executive Committee, she was responsible for building out their global research platform. Prior to that, she also served as an economist for a consulting firm specializing in international transfer pricing and tax strategy.

Abby has a Master’s in Economics with a specialization in Mathematical Economics from the University of Wisconsin Milwaukee with further Master’s level education in real estate finance, construction and development from The University of Denver (DU) and Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT).

Abby enjoys contributing to numerous industry organizations, including NCREIF, NAIOP, ULI, and CREW. She is also a member of the Counselors of Real Estate and has earned the highly regarded “CRE” designation.

Abby has established her reputation throughout the commercial real estate industry with analysis referenced across the world, in media outlets such as Bloomberg, the Today Show, the Economist, the Financial Times, Reuters, the Wall Street Journal, the New York Times and the Financial Post.
